BROOKLIN, 11; ST. LOUIS, 10.

The Brooklyns had a narrow escape from defent yesterday, Patsy Tebenu's St. Louis team making things hum to the last play of the rame atiWashington Park. The much-talked-of Kid Wallace was chiefly responsible for the two runs scored by the Brooklyns in the eighth, which turned victory away from the Missouri growd. Old Cy Young, bigger than ever, did the pitching for St. Louis, and he was not in his old-time form. He was bounded and banged by the Superbas until he looked ready to by the Superbas until he looked ready to flop over. Young's support, however, was too ragged to allow Tebeau to place all the blame upon him, so he was kept in the box to the end. Maul was reasonably effective during the first six innings, but after that the Westerners got the hang of his curves and had a latting matine. Only the sharpest kind of fielding pulled Maul out. The St. Louis team did not present a very strong front. "Fatty" Childs, looking twice his ordinary size, sat on the bench, keeping track of the bats, while big, lumbering Ed Mc-Kean tried to play second base in his place. McKean was so slow that several pop flies went as base hits, while it was the easiest possible job for the Brooklyns to punch the bail into right field with safety. Tebeau himself appears to be a weak spot, while Blake is a poor hitter and always has been. Still Tebeau, with his bullyragging and kicking, is making it interesting for umpires and opponents. He kicked at almost every close decision vesterday, and was ably assisted by the irrepressible O'Connor, the hot-headed Burkett, and some of the lesser lights. The Brooklyns played pretty near up to their best atmoderd, and were most effective when attached the programment of the lesser lights. The Brooklyns played pretty near up to their best atmoderd, and were most effective when attach everything in the base-running line, and worked dilligenity for success until the game was ever. Jennings was in good form again, while Jones, Daily Dailen and Anderson did some neat fielding. Smith caught well and with a great throw to second in the ninth he chocked off the last St. Louis runner who was likely to accur. over. Young's support, however, was sat St. Louis runner who was likely to score, and Kelley's batting was noteworthy. Ho made our hits, two of them, long three-baggers to he left field fence. 'y Young and Wallace id the bulk of the hitting for the visitors. The

Colcolough, who was loaned to the Bridgeport Club last week, rejoined the New York players yesterday, and, after Meekin had been taken out of the box at the end of the third inning, finished out the game without allowing the Pittsburgs a hit. Colcolough and Foster were sent for in case of need, and when the two players arrived at the Polo Grounds the pitcher was informed that he would have to return to Bridgeport to-day, but it is hardly likely that Colcolough will be farmed out to the Connecticut State League club after his performance of vesterday. In five innings Colcolough retired the visiting players in one, two, three order. Pat Bonovan was in heaps of trouble trying to pick out a pitcher from among his string to hold down the New Yorks. Tannehill showed up well for two innings. In the third, after Ely had failed to throw out Meekin, three singles and a double brought four men across the plate, with no one out. Leever, who then sueceeded Tannehill, sent Gleason to first and hit Tom O'Brien, filling the bases, but Doyle lost his head and was doubled up at third. Leever was entirely too wild and easy for the locals to fathom and gave way to Sparks at the close of the seventh inning. The game was long drawn and tiresome. The score:

HEMPSTEAD, July 11.-The Devon Polo Club team easily defeated the Country Club of Westchester team to-day in the second game of the series for the Cedarhurst Challenge Cups. Westchester had the benefit of two goals by handleap, but Snowden, after five minutes' play, had made two goals for Devon, thus evening matters. The Westchesters were evening matters. The Westchesters were weak in team work, and the brilliant individual plays of the Waterbury boys availed nothing. Snowden did the bulk of the Jacoring for Devon, but the whole team's work was excellent and won the day. The peny of Eugene Renyal ran into a crowd of a rectators near the paddock, and, before the player could stop it, the pony had planted both forefeet in a small placton which contained four small children. Although thoroughly frightened they were not injured, and the rony was extricated from its awkward position and sustained only slight scratches. The score: Devon, 10; Westchester, 5x.

FIREARM'S FLIGHT STAKES. CHIEF FEATURE AT BRIGHTON BEACH GOES TO RAYON D'OR'S SON.

May Hempstead Strikes Her Western Gait and Wins a Handicap Shoreham and Sarmatian Show Up Well Among the Two-Year-Olds-Incennamara Again Beaten. Although the racing card at Brighton Beach resterday boasted of but one stake feature the entries all round promised such good sport that there was a large crowd in attendance. The weather was delightful, a stiff breeze laden with ozone from the sea filtering through the stands and betting rings and tempering the heat of the July sun. It was a heartbreaking session for favorite players, as the only successful first choice was Shoreham, and he was at the prohibitive odds of 2 to 7. The stake event referred to was the Flight Handicap, for all ages, at six furlongs. Six good sprinters accepted and the issue looked decidedly open. Bendoran went to the post nominal favorite at 5 to 2, but as much if not more money was invested on Firearm, whose price tumbled from 5 to 1 to 16 to 5. Isidor ruled in steady demand at 4 to 1 and the Suburban and Brighton Handicap winner, Imp. was played from 7 to 1 to 0 to 1. Bendoran alipped his field after flagfall and had matters al! his own way for five furlongs. Then O'Leary, who had been rating along patiently in second position with Firearm, let out a few wraps and Bayon d'Or's speedy son went to the front without an effort and won by two lengths. Bendoran took the place by a similar margin Bendoran took the place by a similar margin from Swiftmas, who got up in time to shut Impout of the inoney.

May Hempstead showed a flash of her Western quality in the one-mile handicap with which the programme oriened. She was at the liberal price of 3 to 1, St. ch. atthe being favorite at 13 to 5. The Paget fliv and her jockey, Cawson, behaved badly at the barrier and finally got the worst of it. May Hempstead ran away from her field in the first furiong and won eleverly by a length and a half. Maximo Comez took the place three lengths in front of St. Clair. Scherrer on Charentus tried to carry the gate away and was set down for two days. A similar sentence was incurred by Collins on Frank Webb in the second race, a selling dash for two-year-olds at flive and a balf furiongs. Shoreham opened at 2 to 5, but even those fligures proved acceptable and by closed at 2 to 7. The second choice, Innovator, went out to burn up the track and turned for home with a pronounced lead, but Shoreham came on when Colom called on him and won easily by two lengths.

Incenting and a half will be a fix furiong dash for three-year-olds and upward, but all were forced to succumb to Lairy Madge, who smothered the large field in the stretch and won by a neek. Fair Rebel bled in a breakawsy and was advisedly left at the post. Next to Shoreham, Montanic figured to be the good thing of the day, and be was backed to odds on in the two-year-old handienp. The result was a typical Brighton Reach aurprise, the Tenny coll Sarmatian, at 40 to 1, winning by a length for the place honors. Rirkwood played with his opponents in the closing event and we assiy by a length and a half from Maurice, Greatland was supposed to have the race at his mercy, but he wound up a moderate fourth be held Maurice and Handeuff. The ravel is slack on the boulevards during the forenoon and early afternoon, but at 3 o'clock it begins to be brisk, and from that time until darg the riders on such places as the Coney Island path move along in a stream as steady as that which a few years ago would have been creditable on a Sunday or a holiday. The racing men and their trainers travelling to and from Manhattan Beach also form part of the procession. One of the sights yesterday that attracted attention was a motor tandem newly imported from Paris, with a colored man on the front seat steering and on the rear eaddle Charles W. Miller, the six-day shampion, who brought the machine over with him. The puffing of the motor cycle caused many riders to wabble as they turned to watch it go past, or pulled to one side to give it room. It is said that these "infernal machines," when travelling on the roadway, make horses shy and therefore are not wanted. On the cycle path they do not scare the mounts of the purpose of determining who is the better man. The women also will play a match in the series for the Short Course Cup.

It is quite a popular trick for riders to go to Bath Beack for a still-water swim before going over to the Manhattan track. Almost every rider who goes from Bath Beach by way of the King's Highway to the eyele path, as they often do, reports on some narrow escape at the Nassau trolley crossing, where the cars run very swiftly on a close headway and do not ston. This is a crossing not sieelfled in the ordinance requiring trolley cars to stop before going over, and the motormen, taking advantage of the lapses in the law, make the point a decidedly dangerous one, as the trees at the roadside prevent wheelmen from getting a clear view of an approaching car. Among the swimmers at Bath Beach yesterday was Fred Titus, who is in apparently fine trim. He said that he is not "out of the game," but is booked to ride on Saturday at Philadelphia in a pursuit race against Me-Eachren.

It has been discovered by the "bug hunting brigade" of the Brooklyn Fark Department that it is not necessary to drive a team and a wagon on the Coney Island cycle paths and make a mess of them in order to properly sprinkle the trees that line the Boulevard with the mixture that destroys' insects. When on a recent occasion one of the park wagons went along the path leaving a most objectionable trail, the Park Commissioner said that the action was authorized tocause it was necessary in order to reach every part of the tree. Yesterday the same wagon was observed on the sast wagons way. A small engine is carried in the wagon, and this gives the sprinkling stream its force. The engine is placed on the ground when at work, and the hose running from it readily reaches across the path. There were two lines of hose in operation yesterday, and the men directing them had no difficulty in standing on the cycle path and reaching every part of the tree on that side, while the engine and the wagon stood on the wagonway. From the circumstance sprang the hope in those cyclists who passed by that the wagons will ravage the paths no more.

race by a bad break, Sculer, who was behind Laverna in the second race, gave the most flagrant exhibition of pulling ever seen here. He was fined $25 and taken from the sulky by the judges. The first heat bets were declared off. The event of the day was John R. Gentry's mile to heat 2:92. He failed, but established record for the track and for the vear. Without a skip or break he paced the mile, with W. Andrews in the sulky, in 2:924. The time by quarters was: 0:318, 1:018, 1:338, 2:0218. The mile was long, as Andrews had to drive near the centre of the track because at the pole the going was cuppy. Gentry's time was first posted as 2:935, but was changed on an objection made by Andrews. Most watches caught the time as 2:93. Summaries follow: The membership of the L. A. "It is not the vexations of the rental business, the decrease in prices and profits, nor the trials of the instruction business that is turning my hair gray," remarked a dealer sesterday while a reporter of The San stood beside him in his store. twenty minutes now. It seems to me that is long enough.

"You will have your wheel very soon now."

"Is this clock right?"

"Within a minute or two."

"Can't you give me the exact time?"

"The desier did this after referring to his watch, and then to the reporter said: "This harassing over a repair job is feomething I have to stand right along. They bring in their wheels, and no matter what the difficulty is, want it fixed in five minutes, and in the meantime they keep restering. It is just the same whether it is a gase of broken bearings or a puncture. I had a good deal rather give such a customer as this one her 35 cents and tell her togo away, but one can't do that. Riders should learn to be reasonable about these matters. It may take ten minutes and it may take even an hour to fix a nuncture. You never known an hour to fix a nuncture. You never know until you get at it. That woman could not fix a nuncture in twenty years, but she is bothering my life out because it has been twenty minutes in the shop.

Eddie Bald in his racing last Saturday showed decided improvement over the form that he had displayed in his earlier appearances this year, but from his movements it may be inferred that this champion of four years standing has some doubts of being able to hold his leadership in sprint racing this season. At the semi-annual meeting of the Harlom Wheelman held last night the resolutions disparaging Sunday racing that were printed in full in The Sun vesterday were passed. It was developed at the meeting that the racing men of the club were nearly all of them in perfect accord with the officers and members at large on this subject. The resolutions do not absolutely prohibit the men from riding on Sundays, but state that those who do so must act as individuals and must not use the club's named when entering or wear the club's colors. Kramer, Bedelf, Schrieber, and Rieff each declared his intention of keeping out of Sunday races. Blase and Mosher, who note at Valsturg last Sunday, were entered before the intended action of the club became known. This action withdraws from the Sunday lists the star amateur of the country, kramer, whose colors no other rider has succeeded in lowering this season. A peculiar and interesting feature in connection with this step on the part of the club is that the President of the Harlem Wheelmen is Fred B. House, who is also President of the National Cycling Association, and the association grants sanctions for Sunday race meets, its policy in the matter being that of permitting local option.

The feature of the day's play was the match between Wright, the interscholastic champion from Harvard, and Little, the champion of Princeton. The Bostonian had all the best of it, his style of play being strongly favored by the soft courts. There are twenty players in the champion of America; Fischer, the Metropolitan champion; Wright, Paret, Avery, Little, Grant and a lot of Canadian experts. Harris met Dr. Ordway at Gray's office yesterday. Ordway said that Palmer had signed with the Westchoster Club, because he is convinced that it is the only one adapted just now to take pictures of the mill and that if McGovern wanted a match he would be compelled to face "Pedlar" there or in England. He also insists on a speedy decision, as he wants to forward the articles of agreement by hext Saturday's steamers. Harris has promised to meet Ordway again to-day and have the matter settled. In the event of a satisfactory adjustment of the match Palmer will sail from England for America a week from next Saturday. GOLF.

Another Victory for St. Mark's Schoolboys-Golfers Who Will Play Abroad.

The strong St. Mark's school team of Southboro added another victory to its list yesterday by defeating the St. Paul's school team of Concord, at the Morris County Golf Club, by the score of 16 to 10. Percy Pyne, 2d, who has won a number of events at Morris county this summer, was handily defeated by W. A. Murdock, who had him 5 down. J. Gordon Douglas, usually a mainstay of the St. Mark's team, was 8 down to F. A. Reinhart. The teams were:

A number of the best golf players in this country, both men and women, will play the game through England and Scotland this summer, and it will be interesting to compare their scores with those made by Englishmen. Among those who will be abroad are Joseph H Choate, Jr., son of the American Ambassador to England, who made the lowest score in the qualitying round of the championship in 1818; John Reid, Jr., who was second in the qualitying round at Ouwentsia and who leaves to-day for a six weeks tour of the principal courses on the other side, and H. B. Hollins, Jr., and W. Bayard Cutting, Jr., who expect to sail soon. Miss Frances E. Griscom of the Philadelphia Country Club, who made a fine showing at the women's championship last fall, is aircally abroad and will undoubtedly prove a worthy representative of golf as the American woman plays it.

The fifth medal-play handicap for women the Cape May Country Club was decided on Monday and resulted in a win for Miss Erisman, who returned a card of 128—35—13. Miss Steel, who made the best gross score, 108, also broke the record for women for the course. The best scores were:

Miss Erismau
Miss Hessie Pessano
Miss Fleatur Mille
Mrs. J. M. Hildreth
Miss Steel M.s. Thomas Eastwick... Miss Gumpert

The second contest for the Benner and Mrs. Evans cups for men and women was played on Monday at the Englewood Golf Club. Only members having a handlesp of nine or more strokes at the time of the first competition were eligible. First place counts three points, second place two points, and third place one point. A Strong Entry List Expected for the Na tional Regatta in Boston.

Rowing clubs in nearly every section of the ountry are making preparations to be represented at the National Regatta, which, for the list time in many years, will be held on the Charles River on July 28 and 20. Entries for the events will not close until Friday, but already a good idea of the principal men who will enter from the metropolitan district may be formed from the work of the crews in local waters, and news of probable formidable contestants from other cities has been gleaned from recent correspondence. The actual entries will not be known for several days after the date of closing, as all communications postmarked on July 14 will be accepted by the com mittee. A fruitful topic of conversation is the association senior scull championship. As proposed the race was intended as a prejude to the posed the face was intended as a bretuce to the national championship, in the same manner as the preliminary tournament to the lawn tennis championship. Under the original conditions all the senior scullers except the holder of the national championship would compete in the association race on the first day of the regatta, and the winner only would be entitled to try canclusions with the holder for the national honor on the last day. The proposed innovation met with opposition at the meeting of the association. It was pointed out that many men who had proved their ability as equipped when the proposed innovation when so periods, and, ont the next day, when hattanily, tired, the winner would have very little chance against Ten Eyek, who would be able to sit on the panks white the change into contest will be come to all carsamen, and the winner will have the privilege of starting in the national/championship without paying an entrance fee. The latter event will be open to senior scullers only, so that the champion will not be hancered by a big field of junior and intermediate assirants, whose accidents.

Several of the crack oarsamen of the country national champlonship, in the same manner as of unior and intermediate assirants, whose faulty watermaship would be liable to cause accidents.

Saveral of the crack carsmen of the country have announced their intention to stay out of the Association champions-hip in order to give Ten Eack, the cresent helder of the national life, a race for the honor. A defunce of Boston and W. Whitehead of Boston have their adherents while Romohr, the Canadam, who was fouled at Saratoza in 1884, when his chance of victory appeared rosy, is thought almost sure to give the young Investity of Penissivania student a good race. The senior eight once shell event promises to fill well and produce one of the best races in the history of American rowing. Princichlas will be represented by the Penasylvania Barge, Club and the Vesper Boat Club. The Barge Club crew are the present champions, but the Nespers rowed a deat heat with them on the Fourth at Philadelphia and are entitled to equal consideration. The Weyl Boat Club crew is expected to be made up largely of Harvard, Varsity carsmen, and in view of the great showing made against Yale, they will have a large following. Boston will have the strong eight of the men, and in view of the great showing made against Yale, they will have a large following. Boston will have the strong eight of the Millstream Boat Club, and New York will have one or two erews.

The Kniekerbocker A. C. eight will start. They defeated the crack eight of the Bohemian Boat Club in easy fashion on Decoration Pay, when rowing in a borrowed boat. Since then the men have trained on, and they will be heavily supported by local culturants. The New York A. C. eight will also enter, but they are eligible for the intermediate race, and may elect to wait another year until the men are more seasoned before tackling the veterans in the big event.

New Orlsans will be represented by single and double soullers, and probably by a four-oared shell erew. Two clubs of Pensacola, Fla., will add to the Southern entry with single and double soullers. In addition to the New York A. C. and Knickerbocker A. C. eights, there will be several entries from local boat clubs. The HarlemBowing Club will send an intermediate four, selected from the men who show the best form in the Long Island Regatta next Saturday. The Ravenswoods will have a senior four for the international race, and the Seawanhakas

Held Out the Olive Branch to the Passate Association.

At a meeting of the Harlem Regatta Association held at the Hotel Marlborough last night steps were taken to avoid the annual regatta of the association clashing with the fixture of the Passaic Association on Decoration Day. The Newark Association was the first to hold its regatta on Decoration Day, but one season decided to try a later date, and the Harlem Association stepped in and made success of the regatta held on the Harlem. The Passaie Association then reverted to its original date, and since that time the two regattas have clashed, to the detriment of both and of the rowing clubs in the district.

The delegates of the Harlem Association were probably stirred into action last night by the fact that the Middle States Regatta Association decided to hold its Labor Day regatta on the Schuylkill. Thus New York will be on the Schuyikill. Thus New York will be without a regatta on Labor Day, although the vicinity had a surfeit of rowing events in the district on Becoration Day.

There was not a very large attendance of delegates at the meeting, as it was not expected that such an important project as holding out the olive branch to the rural association would come up for discussion. Those present ware:

were:
David Brown, Atalanta B. C.; W. Chrasill, First Bo-homian B. C.; James Pilkington and J. G. Mahor, Harlem B. C., Dr. J. F. Buckley, Wyanoke B. C.; F. W. Vilmeir, Nassau B. C., J. J. Murphy, Nonparell B. C.; G. Hafer and W. Goodkind, Lone Star A. C. After the advisability of coming to some agreement with the leasale Association had been thoroughly discussed, it was decided to appoint a committee with power to enter into negotiations. The following committee was appointed:

James Pilkington, J. J. Murphy, W. Chrastii, G. Hafer and David Brown. James Filkington, J. J. Murphy, W. Chrasti, & Haferand David Hrown.

President Vilmar and Secretary-Treasurer Buckley will act at the committee ex-officio. The Secretary-Treasurer presented his report of the regatta held on Decoration Day, showing that the expenses amounted in round figures to $1,053. He reported that when the outstanding accounts were collected the receipts would be equal to the expenditures, and that the association still had a bulance in the treasury.

James Prikington, in an address to the delegates, urared that the Harlem clubs support the Middle States, regatta. It was explained that New York lost the fitting because the Philadelphians agreed to make good any deficit.

Game in Which Collins Made a New Record

The record-breaking score made by A. E. J.

Collins, the 14-year-old Clifton College school-boy, has been authenticated by Cricket, the official organ of the game in England. The old record, as cabled here, was 568, not out. It now appears that the correct seers made by Collins was 628, not out, and that he carried his bat right through the inning, which footed up a bodil of 886. The inning of Collins was not made in a day, or in two days, as resorted, but was put together by batting at various odd times in a house match at Clifton College. As much interest has been aroused here in the performance, the full secre of the game is appended:
